Dear skaters, officials, judges, chaperon and followers of these World Championships, to organize these World Championships was a tough job but our hard work has been rewarded by the freshness and the joy we have read in your eyes during your stay in Courmayeur.

I would like to represent to you the spirit of the Organizing Committee, that is, of the two hundred people who have worked for free in order to give life to these event.

I think we have to ask ourselves: why two hundred people are happy to work for free for a sporting event? I believe that sport fascinates people, especially young ones, because it offers a good view of life: to fight for a goal, but with loyalty and respect for our competitors.

Politics, or economy, do not give this view of life. In politics or economy the only important thing is to win. Young people do not care only about winning, young people like to fight and then shake hands with their competitors. That is the reason why we need young people, and we need sport, to have a better view of life, and a better world. So, you see, sport is fascinating because it helps us to stay young. And to stay young, after all, is the dream of everyone.

For this reason, in the last five years we have organized four international skating competitions, and we hope to organize others in the next years!

It is not for us to say whether the organization was good, but this is the spirit of the Organizing Committee: you fall in love in Courmayeur, you come back, let us stay young forever!

See you soon in Courmayeur!

Andrea Garelo
(President of the Organizing Committee)
