4th ISU Center of Excellence Oberstdorf – Pair Skating Seminar

General

After three successful seminars in 2021, 2022 and 2023, Oberstdorf will hold another ISU CoE Pairs seminar in summer 2024.

The seminar will focus on the technical development of advanced novice, junior and senior pairs, that are preparing for the next season with a focus on the details, levels of pair skating elements and training the competition programs.

The seminar will culminate in a monitoring event accompanied by International Judges and ISU technical specialists. Through this monitoring, the athletes and their coaches will receive useful feedback to take home with them as they continue their season's preparations.

The goal of the project is to optimally prepare the above mentioned pair teams for the upcoming season. In addition to technique training and skating skills, work is done on fine-tuning the competition programs and, in addition to the ice, dance training and specific athletic training are also carried out intensively.
